FLOOR DEBATE

February 5, 2002 LB 429

SENATOR CHAMBERS: But on the amounts, would you agree that I'm stating it correctly?

SENATOR JANSSEN: That is exactly the way the bill has transpired.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: And things have changed so much in the grocery business between the time this bill was introduced and today that what was calculated at costing fourteen cents now only costs five cents. Is that true?

SENATOR JANSSEN: In order for us to provide the recipients of the food stamps adequate access to our lanes, yes, we will...we will take the five cents.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Has the profit margin of the grocers varied that much, either up or down, since...

SENATOR JANSSEN: Oh,...

SENATOR CHAMBERS: ...this bill was introduced?

SENATOR JANSSEN: ...Senator Chambers, the...our profits in the grocery business go down every year.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Time.

SENATOR CHAMBERS: Thank you, Mr. President.

SPEAKER KRISTENSEN: Senator Smith.

SENATOR SMITH: Thank you, Mr. Speaker, members. Senator Janssen, if you wouldn't mind answering a couple of questions that I have.

SENATOR JANSSEN: Sure. Yes.

SENATOR SMITH: And I apologize if some of this has already been on the record, either last year or earlier today, but are grocers required to accept food stamps as we used to know them,
